

Contents

Preface	V
Selected Abbreviations	XV
Selected Literature	XVII
Chapter 1. Introduction	1
a. The „Lawyer for the Situation” in American Legal Culture	3
b. Civil Law Notaries as Neutral Jurists in Transactional Law.....	5
c. The Purpose of this Work	7
Chapter 2. History and Background of the Civil Law Notariat	9
I. Early Beginnings	9
II. The Development of the Notariat as a Free Profession in Northern Italy	10
III. The Path of the Notariat to Germany	11
IV. The Further Development of the Notariat in Germany.....	12
V. The Meaning of the Italian and French Developments and the Notariat in other European Countries	13
1. Italy	13
2. France.....	15
3. The Notariat in Other European Countries.....	18
4. England and Northern Europe.....	20
5. The Notariat in Other Parts of the World	22
VI. Conclusion.....	23
Chapter 3. The Modern German Notary – Neutral Transactional Legal Professional	25
1. The Public Role and Function of German Notaries	25
2. The Role of German Notaries in Private Law Transactions	28
3. Procedures for Transaction Authentication	31
4. The Forms of Notarial Practice in Germany	34
5. Education and Training of Notarial Candidates.....	37
6. Selection, Appointment and Compensation of Notaries	38
7. Liability and Discipline of German Notaries	40
8. Public Perception of the Role of Notaries in Germany.....	41

Chapter 4. Residential Real Estate Transactions in Germany	43
1. Description of Typical Residential Real Estate Transaction.....	43
a. Preliminary Consultation.....	44
b. The German Title Registry System.....	45
c. Contract Preparation.....	48
d. Contract Signing and Authentication.....	49
e. Entering a Preliminary Notice in the Land Registry.....	50
f. Implementation of the Contract.....	51
g. Arrangements for Financing.....	51
h. Filing the Application for Re-Registration of Title.....	53
2. Costs of Residential Real Estate Transactions in Germany.....	54
Chapter 5. Transactional Law Professionals in England, France, Sweden and Estonia	57
1. Transactional Law Professionals and Real Estate Transactions in England.....	59
a. Transactional Law Professionals in England.....	59
b. Residential Real Estate Transactions in England.....	62
c. Conveyancing Costs in Residential Real Estate Transactions in England.....	66
d. Public Notaries in England.....	67
(i) Public Notaries General and Scrivener Notaries.....	70
(ii) Regulation, Training and Admission of English Notaries.....	71
(iii) Differences between Civil Law and English Notaries.....	73
2. Transactional Law Professionals and Real Estate Transactions in France.....	74
a. Transactional Law Professionals in France.....	74
(i) Education and Training of French Notaries.....	76
(ii) Appointment and Assignment of Notaries.....	77
(iii) Compensation of Notaries.....	79
(iv) Liability and Discipline of Notaries.....	79
b. Real Estate Transactions in France.....	80
c. Conveyancing Costs in France.....	86
3. Transactional Law Professionals and Real Estate Transactions in Sweden.....	88
a. Real Estate Brokers as Transaction Professionals in Real Estate Transactions.....	88
(i) Function in Real Estate Transactions.....	88
(ii) Qualification and Licensing.....	89
b. Residential Real Estate Transactions in Sweden.....	90
(i) Purchase and Sales Contract.....	90
(ii) Preparation of Sales Confirmation.....	91

(iii) Sales Confirmation Agreement.....	92
(iv) Land Register.....	93
c. Fraud by Impersonation in Swedish Real Estate Transactions.....	93
d. Cost of Professional Conveyancing Services in Sweden	94
4. Transactional Law Professionals and Real Estate Transactions in Estonia	97
a. Transactional Law Professionals in Estonia.....	97
b. Real Estate Transactions in Estonia	97
(i) Brokers.....	97
(ii) Notarial Sales Contract.....	98
(iii) Transfer of Title and Land Register.....	99
c. Conveyancing Costs in Estonia	100

Chapter 6. Transactional Law Institutions and Practitioners

in the United States.....	103
1. The Effectuation of Legal Transactions in the United States	103
a. Private Law Transactions by Private Parties	104
b. Formal Requirements and Public Policy	105
c. Regulation and Public Policy	107
2. The Roles of Legal Professionals in American Legal Transactions	109
a. The Adversarial Model of the American Legal Professional	109
b. American Lawyers’ Regulated Monopoly of Legal Transactions.....	111
c. American Lawyers as Neutrals?.....	112
d. Regulation of American Lawyers and Neutral Practitioners.....	113
3. American Notaries Public and their Roles.....	114
a. Notaries Public in the Common Law States.....	114
b. Notaries Public in Louisiana	115
c. American Notaries and the Civil Law World.....	118
4. Adversarial Legal Professionals in Legal Transactions – Tensions and Adaptations	119
a. Real Estate Transactions and Title Companies	120
b. Formation and Representation of Corporate Entities	122
c. Mediation	124
d. American Receptivity to the Development of Neutral Institutions of Preventive Law?.....	125

Chapter 7. Residential Real Estate Transactions – The American Model

 a. Background to American Real Estate Conveyancing	127
---	------------

b. Conveyancing Practices and the Roles of Legal Professionals in Maine	132
c. Conveyancing Practices and the Roles of Legal Professionals in New York.....	136
d. Conveyancing Costs – Maine and New York.....	141
e. Observations on American Real Estate Transactions – Maine and New York	144
Chapter 8. Comparative Observations.....	147
1. Comparative Costs.....	148
2. Functional Efficiency.....	153
3. Relationship to Human Equality and Dignity.....	158
4. Comparative Quality of Advice to Transaction Participants	160
5. The Importance of Neutrality	162
Chapter 9. The Future of the Civil Law Notariat within the European Union.....	169
I. The Notariat and the History of European Legal Culture.....	169
II. The Challenge to the Notariat within Europe and the European Commission	171
1. The Position of the European Commission	171
2. European Legislation	174
3. The European Court of Justice	176
III. The Liberal Professions in the Thrall of Principles of Profit Maximization	177
IV. The Self-Image of the German and Latin Notariat	181
1. The Professional Image of the German Notariat.....	181
2. The European Framework.....	182
V. The Commission’s Vision of a Deregulated European Notariat	185
VI. The Notariat and European Legal and Social Culture	187
1. The Notariat in Traditional European Society.....	187
2. The Changed Concept of Freedom in a Competitive Marketplace Society	187
3. The Role of Economic Theory as a Legitimation of Change.....	188
4. The Political Standing of the Notariat within Europe	189
a. The Future of European Social Culture and its Meaning for the Notariat.....	190
b. The Notariat’s Will to Defend Itself.....	191
Chapter 10. The Potential for Neutral Transaction Lawyers in the United States	193
1. The Current Reality in Real Estate Transactions	193

2. American Lawyers and Mediators	195
3. Developments in Professional Regulation	196
4. An American Neutral Transaction Professional?	197
5. American Institutions of Preventive Law	199
6. Neutral Transaction Professionals and Self Executing Documents	200
7. Practical and Transitional Issues.....	202
8. Recommendation for Neutral Transaction Lawyers	204
Chapter 11. Conclusion	207
1. Civil Law Notaries and Preventive Law	207
2. The Role of Public Legal Institutions in Private Law Transactions	208
3. Notaries and Access to Justice.....	209
4. Neutral Transactional Professionals and Transaction System Integrity.....	210
5. Control of Costs for Transaction Professionals	210
6. The Growth of Neutral Roles in Anglo-American Legal Culture.....	211
7. Regulation of Neutral Transaction Professionals.....	212
8. The Need for Ongoing Dialogue	213
Index	215